Tasmanian Tiger® Launches Red Medic Line for Enhanced Visibility and Rapid Access in High-Stress Environments

New red colorway designed to meet the demands of TEMS, EMS, and Combat Medics for high-visibility medical gear.

Knoxville, Tenn. (July 2025) – Tasmanian Tiger®, a tactical nylon line of products distributed exclusively for the US market by Proforce Equipment, Inc., proudly introduces its Red Medic Line – a new collection of its most trusted medic packs, bags, and pouches now available in bright red with high-visibility yellow zip pulls. This new line was developed in response to end-user and customer feedback, identifying the need for medical gear that stands out from the dark tones of traditional tactical kits. In high-stress, time-critical environments such as tactical emergency medical services (TEMS), EMS response, or combat operations, gear that is easy to identify and access can be crucial for survival.

For years, Tasmanian Tiger has delivered field-tested medic solutions in standard military colors like coyote, black, and olive. However, professionals in the field emphasized the need for medical-specific gear in red—a globally recognized color for emergency response—to reduce delays caused by searching through similarly colored equipment. The Red Medic Line enhances visual contrast in packs, vehicles, and aid stations, allowing medics to locate essential supplies without hesitation.

The new line includes a wide range of solutions to support various mission profiles and loadout preferences: the TT First Responder Move On MKIII, a modular dual-pack system with a detachable front pack; the TT Medic MASCAL Pack, designed for mass casualty incidents; the TT Modular Medic Combat Pack 18, an 18-liter tactical backpack with a full circumferential zipper for rapid access; and the compact TT Small Medic Pack MKII and TT

Medic Hip Bag, ideal for mobile or low-profile applications. The line also features the TT Tac IFAK Pouches (M and S sizes) with reverse MOLLE systems and organized internal layouts, as well as the TT Tourniquet Pouch II, built for quick deployment of CAT or similar tourniquets.

The TT Red Medic Line is available now through Authorized Tasmanian Tiger dealers.
