Zaffiri Precision to Introduces the ECHO Series

Aggressive style meets uncompromising performance for GLOCK® pistols.

ZP - Echo Standard - G19 Gen 3

Largo, Fla. (January 2026) – Zaffiri Precision, a leader in American-made, precision-engineered aftermarket components for Glock® and SIG Sauer platforms, proudly highlights the ECHO and ECHO Elite complete uppers from its revamped product lineup. Designed for shooters who demand both bold aesthetics and real-world functionality, the ECHO series represents the perfect fusion of aggressive styling, enhanced handling, and reliable performance, making it an ideal upgrade for competitive shooters, concealed carriers, and enthusiasts alike. The ECHO and ECHO Elite will be on display in Booth 72755 at SHOT Show® 2026, to be held Jan. 20 – 23, 2026, at the Venetian + Caesars Forum in Las Vegas, Nevada.

The ECHO slide stands out with its modern, tactical design: sharp angled front and rear serrations for superior grip and effortless slide manipulation, even in high-stress or gloved conditions. Signature window cuts not only reduce overall weight for faster cycling and reduced recoil but also add a distinctive, sleek profile that turns heads at the range. Crafted from a single billet of 17-4 stainless steel with tight tolerances, the ECHO delivers balanced weight reduction without sacrificing the durability Zaffiri Precision is known for, ensuring thousands of rounds of flawless operation.

Zaffiri Precision Echo Elite - G19 Gen 3

Elevating the experience further is the ECHO Elite, a premium configuration built for those seeking ultimate refinement and versatility. In addition to the core ECHO features, the Elite includes:

- A threaded barrel for easy suppressor or compensator attachment
- An upgraded steel backplate for enhanced reliability
- A stainless-steel guide rod for smoother recoil management and longevity
- Suppressor-height tritium night sights for rapid target acquisition in low-light scenarios and seamless co-witnessing with red dot optics

These upgrades provide smoother operation, reduced muzzle flip, and premium low-light visibility, making the ECHO Elite ready for duty, competition, or suppressed setups right out of the box.

As part of Zaffiri Precision's shift toward pre-configured, rigorously tested complete uppers, the ECHO series is available as a direct bolt-on upgrade, complete with slide, barrel, upper parts kit, and sights. Optic-ready options ensure compatibility with popular red dots, allowing shooters to customize further while benefiting from the company's renowned machining quality and finish options.

"The ECHO series embodies our commitment to passion, progress, and precision," said Thom Kuss, Director of Marketing for Zaffiri Precision. "It's not just about looking aggressive; it's about performing under pressure, whether on the range or in real-world applications."
