Attendees can find Tasmanian Tiger at Booth 757.

The conference opens on Sunday, Aug. 30 at 9 a.m. with its first class. Exhibit hours are from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Aug 30 and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Aug. 31. Hosted by the National Tactical Officers Association \(NTOA\), the event brings together tactical operators, trainers, and law enforcement leaders from across the country for training, networking, and hands-on evaluation of the latest gear.

At Booth 757, Tasmanian Tiger will spotlight two packs that recently earned Silver ratings in the NTOA Member Tested and Recommended Program (MTRP), an evaluation regarded by law enforcement agencies as a key resource in tactical equipment purchasing decisions. The NTOA MTRP has evaluated more than 3,000 products in real-world conditions since 2003. Under NTOA's MTRP rating scale, products scoring 3.00-3.99 receive the standard MTRP logo, 4.00-4.49 receive the Silver logo, and 4.50-5.00 receive the Gold logo.

The TT Modular Medic Combat Pack 18 earned an overall score of 4.43 out of 5. Four NTOA-affiliated field testers, including active-duty law enforcement personnel from four states, evaluated the 18-liter tactical emergency medic backpack across design, durability, storage, versatility, and ease of use. Built from Cordura® fabric with YKK zippers, the pack features a side-opening main compartment, removable Tegriss® organizer panels, near-limitless MOLLE modularity, and laser-cut mounting points that carry up to four tourniquets. Removable shoulder straps allow it to convert for use with a plate carrier. One California-based tester praised its capacity and durability, noting it held up after repeated hard use on search warrants.

The TT Breacher Pack earned an overall score of 4.26 out of 5. Tested by four NTOA members specializing in breaching and less-lethal roles, the purpose-built pack is designed to organize and secure breaching tools such as bolt cutters, sledges, hooligan tools, and detonation components. Built on 700-denier Cordura construction, it features two removable tool compartments, an extendable design that accommodates long bolt cutters, and a comfortable, adaptable carry system. A Pennsylvania tester called it a reliable, mission-ready option his team would confidently recommend for tactical breaching operations.

“Recognition from an organization as respected in the law enforcement community as the NTOA reflects the standard we hold ourselves to with every product we bring to market,” said Richard Lewis, president and CEO of Proforce Equipment, Inc. “Bringing these packs to the conference floor lets us put them directly in the hands of the operators who rely on them.”
